The articles are largely concerned with the plight of women in general, and American Black women in particular. There is little reference to Black extremism. There are no inflammatory articles or specific calls for violent action noted in this issue. In the feature article, ANGELA DAVIS seems to obtain inordinate satisfaction from the possibility that Black women slaves may have put White men to death during the struggle for liberation; however, her comments are nonspecific and based largely on legend.

CA/1
"The Black Scholar" is a black militant magazine published monthly, except for July and August, by Dr. NATHAN HARE, who is on the Security Index.

The central theme of the October, 1971, issue seems to be an effort to relate black economics and black revolution to the total economic picture in the United States, and throughout the world. The articles seem to stress that white capitalism is an overt kind of oppression designed to keep the Blacks dependent and controlled.

CA/1
There is an article, "Prison or Slavery", written by KENNETH DIVANS (San Francisco file 157-7129), and LARRY M. WEST (San Francisco file 9-2450), urging black prisoners to cease cooperating with the prison systems in order to abolish "slavery" within the system. DIVANS is presently confined in San Quentin prison; WEST was recently transferred from San Quentin to Folsom prison.

An article, "UJAMAA for Land and Power", written by JOSEPH F. "Culture and Revolution: Their Synthesis in Africa", an article purportedly written by ELDRIDGE CLEAVER (San Francisco file 157-4324), head of the International Black Panther Party (BPP), deals mainly with the differences in ideology between cultural Black Nationalists and revolutionary Black Nationalists, and calls for all Black Nationalists to unite and support the Peoples' Republic of the Congo in their struggle for economic and political freedom.

EARL ANTHONY (San Francisco file 157-996), authored an article "Pan-African Socialism" which deals, in vague terms, with the historic struggle of Afro-Americans and Africans against Europeans and Americans.

An article by the publisher, NATHAN HARE (San Francisco file 157-1119), "A Piece of the Pie and the War of the Flea", is an inflammatory article which indirectly suggests methods by which a revolutionary minority can seize power from a stronger majority. Quotes: "We can know that the outright war between ourselves and our oppressors cannot forever be delayed, that it will come and come with all the vigor of a thunderstorm." "The horsefly, in fact, cannot even get a drop of the horse's blood without stinging and hurting him, and in turn persistently being swished away." "Violence, for instance, can be revolutionary or counter-revolutionary, and so can any other act. Violence can be revolutionary only if it is in the context of a revolutionary seizure of power at the proper time." "Our strategy must be to disrupt him (oppressor), to make it increasingly difficult for the oppressor to rule over us." "But weapons and some material goods, as in Vietnam, are essential in waging a sustained struggle for liberation." "But in the final analysis, we are the inheritors because we are the inevitable and irresistible gravediggers of the oppressor, and he is going deeper and deeper into the ground."

"There is clearly only one way for black Americans to obtain a piece of the pie and that is through revolutionary struggle in every form and fashion. Meanwhile, it is not necessary to keep on shouting 'pick up the gun' or wolfing rhetoric. The gun will come as an automatic consequence of our preparation and the crisis steadily surrounding us and the white oppressor."

There are no specific calls for violent action noted in this issue.

Re Bureau letter to San Francisco dated 1/28/71, captioned, "THE BLACK SCHOLAR".

Referenced letter instructed opening a case on captioned individual since his name appeared as a staff member of "The Black Scholar"; to conduct investigation to fully identify him; and determine whether his activities warrant active investigation.

Subject is identical with ALLAN ROSS, the Subject of San Francisco file number 100-44250 and Bureau file number 100-267968. He is a former member of CPUSA and currently the president of Graphic Arts, Incorporated, 2670 Bridgeway, Sausalito, California, which is also the address of "The Black Scholar". Graphic Arts has contracted to print "The Black Scholar" but sublets the actual printing to another firm. Subject was last interviewed in 1962, and at that time did not wish to discuss his activities with the FBI other than to state he was a loyal American citizen of the United States and that he would report any information that came to his attention that he considered a threat to the security of the United States.

A review of the Subject's file reveals that he was reportedly a member of CPUSA from 1933 to 1956. There is no information that he has been involved in CP activities since that time. He was formerly employed as a linotype operator by the San Francisco Chronicle newspaper. ROSS was born 9/27/07, at Novograd, Russia, and is a naturalized citizen of the United States.

Records of the San Francisco Police Department, Bureau of Identification, as checked by SC JAMES E. YOUNGER on 6/23/71, revealed no record of ROSS. On 8/7/71, the following descriptive information re Subject was obtained from the Department of Motor Vehicles, Division of Driver's Licenses:

Name	ALLAN ROSS

It would appear that ROSS' involvement with the magazine, "The Black Scholar" stems from his connection with Graphic Arts, Incorporated, and his knowledge of printing. He is not being recommended for inclusion of the Security Index and further active investigation appears unwarranted at this time. His activities will be followed through sources familiar with NATHAN HARE, publisher of "The Black Scholar", and through regular review of that magazine at San Francisco.

"The Black Scholar" is a black militant magazine published monthly, except for July and August, by Dr. NATHAN HARE, who is on the Security Index.

The inside cover of "The Black Scholar" contains the following legend about the Black World Foundation:

"Still in its embryonic stages, THE BLACK WORLD FOUNDATION was formed a year ago to begin the shaping of a revolutionary black culture.

"THE BLACK WORLD FOUNDATION recognizes that the condition of black America has always been a revolutionary condition; that 350 years of economic, social and racial oppression have etched this radical fact into the fabric of American life like an acid. The liberation of black America can only be achieved through the development of cultural and ideological materials that will acknowledge this revolutionary black consciousness, that will bring to fruition its new vision of humanity, the new social order toward which black America now struggles and which indeed is the only salvation for all of America.

"A black cultural revolution is essential. We must shape a culture, a politics, an economics, a sense of our past and future history, which will truly liberate. We must develop a new vision, one which is not a carbon copy of the political and cultural system which now exists, or a total rejection of all its tools and instruments, but a vision which retains that which has been good and discards that which has been worthless.

"THE BLACK SCHOLAR, journal of black studies and research, was our first instrument for the enhancement of black culture. But much else has been accomplished in the past turbulent twelve months. Numerous booklets and scrolls have been published; many young writers have been encouraged to submit their work for publication. Both the lecture bureau and the essay contest, conducted by THE BLACK SCHOLAR, are but the first steps in a cultural and ideological campaign to generate the necessary black cultural revolution.

"THE BLACK WORLD FOUNDATION is now entering its second year, with an extensive program to provide analysis, research and symposiums on all the basic issues that concern black America: the economics of labor, land and industry; the control of cities; the police state; the question of genocide; of black education and the arts; of the family; their total health and well-being.

SF 157-4615

TJF:mba

"We need your help and want your full participation in our foundation's activities. Join us. Join THE BLACK WORLD FOUNDATION."

The central theme of the June, 1971, issue seems to be an effort to counter the false notion that the black man has no dominant role in the black family. The articles seem to stress that the "white power structure" has attempted to emasculate the black male through 350 years of racial oppression, because the white man is jealous of black masculinity. Although there are no calls for specific violent action noted in this issue, there appears an article, apparently written by GEORGE JACKSON, one of the three Soledad brothers, which makes some veiled references to violence. JACKSON mentions that his trial is set for 8/71, and he suggests that he may have to defend himself as he did at his last hearing. (Wherein he kicked his attorney to the floor and cause a courtroom disruption.) JACKSON also mentions correspondence between himself and ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, and states "Tell him that 7,000 miles in the walls, steel, and barbed wire do not make him safe from my special brand of discipline. "Tell him that the dragon is coming..." The substructured prison movements are gaining momentum".

JACKSON is currently confined at Soledad State Prison.

UACB, no dissemination is being made of JACKSON's article.

The publisher of "The Black Scholar" is Dr. Nathan Hare. The January 5, 1970 issue of "Newsweek" magazine contains an article concerning "The Black Scholar" which states in part as follows:

"The basic aim of the new journal, says Hare, is to unite the black intellectual and the street radical. 'We want to pull the analyst out of his ebony tower,' he says, 'and to defuse the street activists disdain for scientific analysis.'

ENCLOSURE

SISTER MARY MARTIN DE PORRES GREY

"Rhetoric: Each issue of the journal is built around a central theme....."The Black Scholar" will emphasize scholarship rather than rhetoric."

Dr. Nathan Hare is a Sociology Professor who was the former coordinator of the Black Studies Program at San Francisco, California, State College. Hare was fired from Howard University, Washington, D.C., in 1967, for alleged collaboration with student agitators. In January, 1969, Hare was arrested by the San Francisco Police Department at an unlawful rally at San Francisco State College, and charged with inciting to riot, and unlawful assembly. Hare was also arrested December 1, 1969, and charged with carrying a loaded and concealed weapon.

On March 12, 1971, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Sister M. Martin De Porres Grey is Sister Mary Martin De Porres Grey, a black nun, who is on the staff of Carlow College, formerly Mt. Mercy College, Pittsburgh.

On April 15, 1971, a second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Sister Mary Martin De Porres Grey is a black Roman Catholic nun, who was one of the charter officers of the United Black Front (UBF) in Pittsburgh. Source advised that Grey is not known to be involved in Black Nationalist activity or agitation.

The April 30, 1968, issue of the "Pittsburgh Press," a daily newspaper of general circulation, contains an article concerning the newly formed UBF. This article quotes the Chairman of the UBF as stating that the purpose of the organization is (1) to form a united front of various segments of the black community to uniformly solve their problems; and (2) to receive and administer funds being raised and channeled into the Hill District of Pittsburgh.

SISTER MARY MARTIN DE PORRES GREY

On July 10, 1968, the second source made available a copy of the June, 1968, Volume 1, No. 1, issue of "Talking Drums," self described as the newsletter of the UBF. This newsletter lists Sister Martin De Porres Grey as Treasurer of the UBF.

The October 24, 1970, issue of "The Pittsburgh Courier," a weekly newspaper directed toward the black community, contains an article captioned, "Local Black Catholic Sister Heads National Organization," which article pertains to Sister Mary Martin De Porres Grey. This article indicates she is the organizer and president of the National Black Sisters Conference, an organization of 300 black sisters and nuns dedicated to the cause of serving individual roles as God-convicted black women.

This article also contains background information concerning Sister Mary Martin De Porres Grey which indicates she is 27 years old, in 1970, that she was graduated from Mt. Mercy College, now Carlow College, Pittsburgh, in 1966, and that she formerly taught at St. Marys School in Pittsburgh. The article indicates that in the summer of 1968, she was a moderator and dormitory counselor for Project Upward Bound, an Office of Economic Opportunity Program for teen-agers having potential college achievement. The article also indicates that in 1968 and 1969, she was the Assistant Director of the Pittsburgh Diocesan School Board Economic Opportunity Program. Also that she served on the Board of Directors of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

On May 21, 1971, the first source advised that the subject is on the staff of Carlow College, 3333 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, a four year Liberal Arts College, operated by the Religious Sisters of Mercy, of which Order she is a member. The source advised that she resides at the convent at the school.

Records of the Allegheny County Detective Bureau, Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh Police Department, reviewed on May 14, 1971, contained no record concerning Grey.

SISTER MARY MARTIN DE PORRES GREY

Other informants who are familiar with certain aspects of racial activity in the Pittsburgh area, were contacted during April and May, 1971, and advised they had no information concerning the subject.

SUBJECT: "THE BLACK SCHOLAR"

DATE: 5/27/71

Re San Francisco letter to the Bureau dated 4/23/71.

Enclosed for the Bureau are four (4) copies of the magazine "The Black Scholar" dated April - May, 1971.

Five copies of "The Black Scholar" were purchased at The Book Center, 172 Turk Street, San Francisco. One copy is being maintained in the San Francisco file.

"The Black Scholar" is a black militant magazine published monthly, except for July and August, by Dr. NATHAN HARE, who is on the Security Index.

The April - May, 1971, issue contains the explanation "The extraordinary difficulties of securing writing by prisoners and processing it with a limited staff, have forced us to combine the April and May issues. But you will still receive your ten issues; the June, 1971 and a tenth issue early this summer . . ."

The April - May issue contains mostly articles by black prisoners, including ANGELA DAVIS, FLETA DRUMGO, one of the "Soledad Brothers", and others. If there is a central theme it is the general dissatisfaction of certain black people with alleged injustices suffered by them within the judicial and correctional systems. Although there are no calls for specific violent action noted in this issue there appears a general preoccupation with the idea that all black prisoners are "political prisoners".

"Innovative strategies and tactics of revolutionary violence would also be needed. More specifically the sophisticated uses of violence would include terrorism and other forms of psychological, and possibly biochemical warfare, weeded with urban and rural guerrilla actions primarily developed through our struggle and security through our thorough analysis of similar struggles."

Separate LHM, under caption of author's name, is being submitted concerning the article written by ANDERSON.

On 3/3/71, LARRY MILLER, Supervisor, Internal Revenue Service, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, advised that the Black World Foundation is not presently registered as a nonprofit organization. MILLER advised that organization has applied for such status but application was returned in 2/71 because it was incomplete. MILLER further advised of the possibility that Black World Foundation is currently working with the Corporation Committee, State of California, in an attempt to obtain documents necessary to become recognized as a nonprofit organization by Internal Revenue Service.
